New Caledonia -

Learn French in Paradise! Join us in April 2020 for our French study tour to New Caledonia. New Caledonia is a French territory off the coast of Australia in the South Pacific where students will take part in a two week intensive French language course at the Institut Voltaire in the beautiful capital of Noumea. Students will be engaged in three hours of French language study each weekday morning. This is the equivalent to a term's instruction without taking into account the time spent with a homestay family, in the community or on our cultural excursions!

During our time in New Caledonia, students will be billeted in pairs with a French speaking family and the afternoons will be spent partaking in various sightseeing and cultural activities which will all be conducted in French, giving students extra opportunities to increase their French comprehension and oral communication skills.

Noumea and Isle de Pines

Noumea With its cheerful multi-ethnic community, New Caledonia's cosmopolitan capital is both sophisticated and uncomplicated, classy and casual. The relaxed city sits on a large peninsula surrounded by picturesque bays and offers visitors a variety of experiences.

The Isle of Pines is only a twenty-minute flight south of Noumea, but a whole other world away. Famous for its tall native pines and stunning deserted beaches, the Isle of Pines island life encourages you to unwind and enjoy all of its idyllic beauty. It's not called the "Jewel of the Pacific" for nothing!
